GROWING OPPORTUNITY

The self storage community continues to grow stronger by the day and there is no denying its influence in the real estate investment decisions that are happening.

Self Storage Expo Asia 2020 is Self Storage Association Asia's 6th year as the city of the future, there is also no denying Singapore is the best place to hold it.

Professionals continue to flock to this industry due to its real estate fundamentals and market dynamics that continue to verify you're in the right place at the right time.

YOUR MOVE

One thing is for certain. This industry is growing in Asia. Nobody has an argument against this and you don't have to believe me. Believe the research at least.

So then the only question is, when do you get involved? Well, I can tell you from heaps from the growing delegation at each of these events, there are many already staking their claim as leaders of the industry,

Is this year your year to make your mark in Asia? To push to make your brand top of mind? Well, that's up to you. Its your move.
